FLOODED ENGLAND

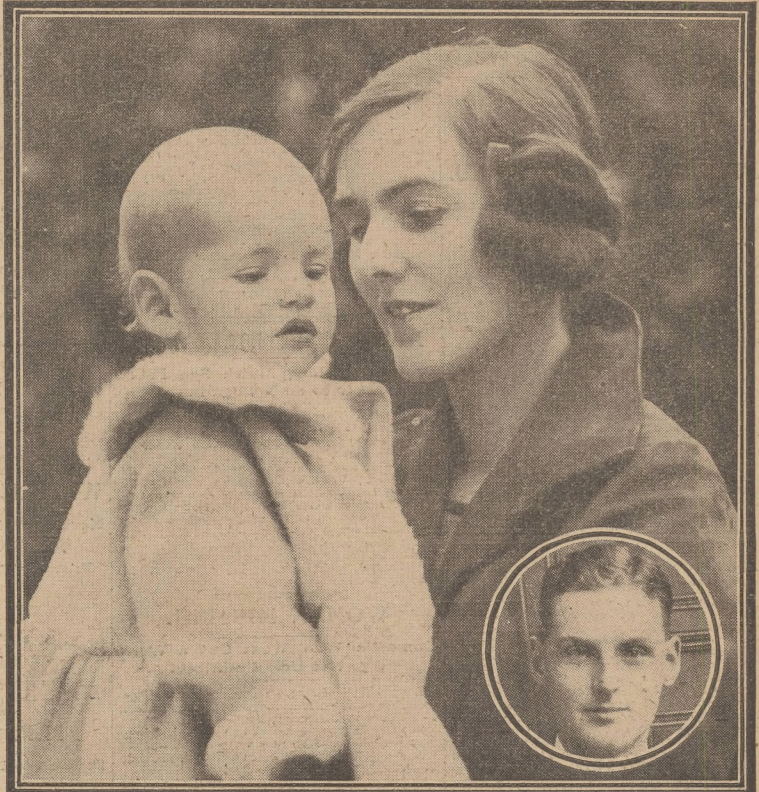

RUSSELL DIVORCE SUIT

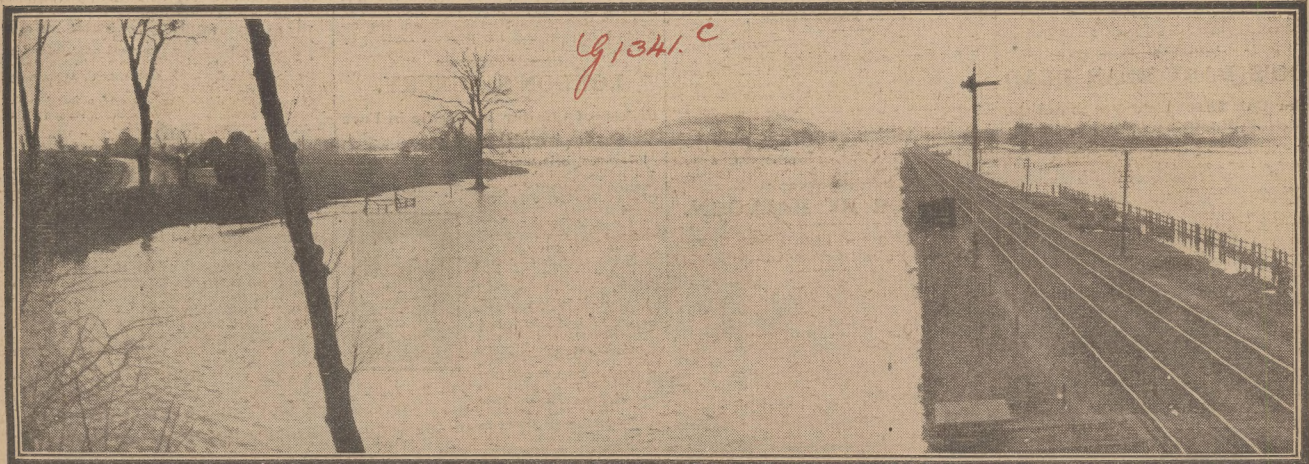

Funeral boat crosses flooded fields at Brighton, Yorkshire.

Overflowing of the Thames near Wallingford, Berks.

The Hon. Mrs. John Russell with her baby and (inset) her husband, the Hon. John Hugo Russell, eldest son of Lord Amphil, whose petition for divorce will be re-heard during the term opening on Thursday. Mr. Russell now cites a co-respondent named Mayer.

Extensive flooding of marshland near Norwich has the appearance of a huge lake. The railway line emerges like a long causeway.

Many great tracts of the English countryside have disappeared beneath the flood waters brought by the heavy rains. For a funeral in Yorkshire two coffins and the mourners were carried in boats from a flooded farmyard across the fields to dry land. The journey to the churchyard was completed by motor-car.

DOGS SAVED FOR HAPPY OWNERS.

"Daily Mirror" Readers Help to Pay Licences.

PATHETIC CASES.

Many Still in Danger of Losing Pets.

It was Kipling who wrote of giving one's heart to a dog to tear—and Kipling pre-eminently knew the power a dog may exercise over human affections.

At this time of the year, with the new licence due, many poor people are faced with the possibility of losing their pets because they cannot afford to pay for them.

And, fortunately, many others are determined that they shall not lose their dogs for the sake of a few shillings. Daily Mirror readers are coming heartily to the rescue.

Saturday morning's post alone brought in over £120, and donations are still coming in. It is likely that very many dogs will be saved for their owners by the generosity of our readers.

WEDDING RING PAWNED.

Poor People's Great Efforts to Keep Their Dogs.

"Last year I pawned my wedding ring to get the licence, and unfortunately, it is still there," writes yet another applicant for a free dog licence, adding later that her husband, an ex-Serviceman, is suffering from neurasthenia. "It is making him worse to think that we shall have to part with our pet, because she is like one of the family," she says.

One correspondent pleads that the little spaniel which her father (since dead) bought from a man who ill-treated it, may be spared from destruction, while an unemployed ex-Serviceman pleads for the retention of his little daughter's pet.

"She is dear, and cannot speak properly, and she loves her dog," he states. "I know it will break my little one's heart if she has to part with it."

A war widow is anxious to keep her late husband's dog, writing: "I would not like it to be destroyed, as it was his pet."

Another war widow, with four small children, whom she is supporting on parish relief only, justly requests a free licence for the dog, for the children's sake. "If I would break their hearts to have it destroyed," is her statement.

"JUST LIKE A CHILD."

"We have had her twelve years, and she is just like a child," is the remark of one woman who requests help to pay her dog's licence.

In every one of the letters, which continue to pour in daily, one is struck by the fact that no matter what vicissitudes of fortune the applicants have passed through, they have in all cases made every effort to keep their dogs.

The cases to which attention has been drawn in the columns of The Daily Mirror during the last few days have met with warm sympathy and many offers of practical assistance from among our readers, several ladies having offered to pay for twenty dog licences each, in order to help the vast bulk of poor people in need of them.

Despite this warm-hearted response, however, there yet remain many hundreds of applicants for whom relief in this direction has not yet been achieved.

An interesting point in one of the cases is that the applicant purchased her dog five years ago for the sum of 2s. She declares it to be most faithful, and adds that a short time ago, when her husband was ill, it obstinately refused to leave the room where he was lying in bed.

ZOO'S BABY BEAR DEAD

Polar Cub That Could Not Stand the English Climate.

The baby Polar bear born at the Zoo just over a week ago died on Saturday, but as the normal life of these cubs born in captivity is three days it established a record.

The cause of death was pneumonia, which had carried off most of the other progeny of mother Barbara. The new mascot, public life, Barbara had in fact twins, but Sam, the venerable father, was discovered devouring one and was only removed just in time to save the other.

Sam, looking very dirty after a week's solitary confinement, was allowed to rejoin Barbara after the dead cub had been taken away.

Interest now turns to another little cub, the hybrid offspring of Daisie, a brown bear, and Teddie, a black bear, which was born on the Mappin Terraces about the same time and which yesterday was receiving every attention from its mother.

SON'S APPEAL FOR MOTHER.

Her sixteen-year-old son was the principal witness against Mabel Marino, who at Cardiff Quarter Sessions was found guilty of receiving stolen goods.

When sentence of two months' imprisonment was passed the boy burst into tears and cried: "Can't I do it for her, sir?"

ILFORD LOVERS.

No Appeal to the King for Bywaters.

SCREENED SCAFFOLD.

A report that Mrs. Bywaters was to make a final direct appeal to the King for the life of her son has now been denied by her. She had previously written to the King asking for mercy.

The executions of Bywaters and Mrs. Thompson are fixed to take place to-morrow at 9 a.m., that of Bywaters at Pentonville and that of Mrs. Thompson at Holloway.

Bywaters had an interview with his mother at Pentonville, and Mrs. Thompson saw her father and mother and her sister Avie at Holloway on Saturday.

Mrs. Bywaters was on the verge of collapse when she left her son.

It is understood that when Bywaters discussed the Home Secretary's refusal to reprieve either of the condemned pair, his chief concern appeared to be for Mrs. Thompson. Several times he repeated the declaration: "She is absolutely innocent."

Mrs. Bywaters will probably have a last meeting with her son at Pentonville to-day.

Mrs. Thompson's parents were with her for nearly an hour. On leaving, the condemned woman's father said there were signs that Mrs. Thompson's health was not of the best.

Arrangements for the executions at Pentonville and Holloway are practically complete. The former prison Willis will probably be the executioner, and at Holloway, Ellis. A wooden screen is said to have been erected at Holloway to hide from the windows of surrounding houses the path from Mrs. Thompson's cell to the scaffold.

The last execution at Holloway was twenty years ago, when two "baby-farmers," Annie Walters and Amelia Sachs, were hanged.

ARREST AT BILLIARDS.

Crowd Watching Match See Police Pounce on Young Man.

Dozens of Glasgow merchants are alleged to have been duped by a young Englishman who was arrested in a Glasgow billiard saloon on Saturday night.

A crowd was watching a match when detectives pounced on the young man, who is stated to have posed as the representative of a well-known firm of advertising agents, and to have secured large sums in advance payment for advertising space on mirrors, which he said were to be placed in the vestibules of theatres.

He had the firm's cards and proof sheets of proposed advertisements in his possession. He will appear in court to-day.

WOMAN MISSING.

Domestic Who Went Out a Week Ago Not Heard of Since.

A good deal of mystery surrounds the disappearance of E. Rowlands, a domestic servant at a house in Park-road, Tottenham.

She went out yesterday week and has not been heard of since. Her wages were due, and £2 was left in her box. It is thought that she may be losing from some form of memory.

She is twenty-six years of age and of striking appearance, is 5ft. 4in. in height, has dark hair and eyes, uses spectacles and was wearing a blanket coat and black hat.

MUNITIONS EXPLOSION.

Twenty Killed and Many Injured in Sofia Works Blaze.

PARIS, Sunday. Inflammable substances having caught fire in a private metal works yesterday at Sofia, a dozen buildings were destroyed by an explosion of munitions, and twenty workers were burned to death, while a great many more sustained injuries.

An official explanation was issued that the explosives had been handed over to the Inter-Allied Commission, which had disposed of them to private concerns.—Exchange.

PRAYER BY BALLOON.

Infant's Plea for Doll's Car Comes Back to Earth.

PARIS, Saturday. One of the small advertising balloons distributed by a Paris store has alighted in the Holstein district of Germany, 500 miles from the starting point, with a message from a four-year-old Paris child, Diane Drouillet, addressed to the Infant Jesus, stating she had been a good girl during the past year and saying how happy she would be if He would send her a little car for her doll or a teddy bear.

One of Diane's playmates had told her the Infant Jesus had sent her a doll, and Diane decided to ask for a similar favour.—Exchange.

DIED IN BATH.

Councillor C. D. Twopenny, Deputy Mayor of Hythe and member of the Bath, died in a bath in a nursing home following a nervous breakdown.

$50,000 LOSS.

Norfolk County Council and £300 a Year Clerk.

AUDIT SYSTEM BLAMED.

"We need a Hercules to sweep out the Augean stable," said Colonel Sapwell at Norfolk County Council on Saturday, when the sub-funds of the funds by a £300-a-year clerk named Harvey, amounting to practically £50,000, were again under discussion.

The council adopted the lay and parliamentary committee's report recommending that the clerk be dismissed, if necessary, be taken against the bank for cashing cheques alleged to have been forged by Harvey. A formal claim is to be made.

The Ministry of Health will also be requested to recognize the responsibility for the loss the council has suffered in great part owing to the laxity of an audit system over which the council have no control.

Mr. Gooch declared that recent happenings in Norfolk testified to the faith of a good many people in the efficacy of the Government audit.

Major Trafford, who withdrew a motion that there should be an independent public inquiry, said to be no mention in the auditor's report of an audit clerk believed to be now in America, and who left the audit department and joined Harvey as a bookmaker's clerk.

It was stated there would be no increase of rate to make good the defalcations. The losses had been already budgeted for.

HEROISM AT SEA.

Medals for White Star Line Crew for Mid-Atlantic Rescue.

The pluck and courage of British seamen was recognised when the White Star liner Pittsburgh called at Southampton on Saturday.

November the Pittsburgh rescued in mid-Atlantic, without loss of life or accident, after the ship was a total wreck, the whole crew of the Italian steamer Monte Grappa.

Medals awarded by the Liverpool Shipwreck Society were now presented by the Mayor of Southampton to Commander Thomas Jones and the two officers and crew of the boats which went to the rescue.

WHITEHALL STAFF CUTS.

Nearly 1,500 More Temporary Clerks to Come Under Economy Axe.

Between 1,400 and 1,500 temporary clerks of both sexes in Government departments are to be dispensed with during the next few weeks, in accordance with further staff reductions under the economy schemes.

In the Admiralty alone there are to be about 500 dismissals.

Similar cuts are being made in other industries, and at Liverpool a large number of girls who were employed during the shipping boom have lost their posts.

M.P. CHALLENGED.

Petition to Unseat Husband of Well-Known Actress at Berwick.

During the week-end a petition was lodged against the return of Mr. H. Philipson as M.P. for Berwick-on-Tweed at the General Election.

The petition is on the ground of excessive expenditure. It was presented by Brigadier-General Widdington and Mr. R. C. Bosanquet, Mr. Philipson, who is the husband of Miss Maudie, a well-known actress, is a National Liberal, and defeated Mr. Walter Runciman, the ex-Cabinet Minister and Independent Liberal, by over 3,000 votes.

LONDON'S LUXURY.

"I cannot help wondering," says the Bishop of Chester, in his diocesan organ, at what seems a really provocative display of luxury in what everyone says are 'hard times'.

"I was in London three weeks ago. It seemed as if the whole of the member over having seen so lavish a show of costly un-necessaries as was flaunted there in the more fashionable streets. Silks and satins, pearls and diamonds, crocodile hide and gold, expensive toys and chocolate. It seemed strange when so many of the neediest people, rich and poor, are either driven or prefer to live simply and inexpensively.

I am sure that there is something heartless as well as dangerous in wastefulness face to face with real want."

VANISHED POOL.

The mysterious drying up of the famous Sittoung Pond at Aylesbury is believed to be due to the failure of underground springs in the drought of 1921.

MADE-IN-MINUTE DAINY DISHES.

Winning Recipes for "The Daily Mirror" Prizes.

PANTRY STRATEGY.

Quick Cooking When Surprise Visitor Turns Up.

Hundreds of letters have reached The Daily Mirror giving original recipes for made-in-a-minute dishes.

It would seem, therefore, that half the housewives of Britain have at one time or another been afflicted with the unexpected dinner guest.

The Woman's Supplement, which is now an established feature of The Daily Mirror on Wednesdays, offered prizes of two guineas and one guinea for the best emergency dish, allowing for the time it took to prepare and the cost.

Names of the winners and their recipes are given below.

THREE-COURSE SUPPER.

How an Unexpected Guest Was Quite Nicely Catered For.

The majority of these Mother Hubbard confessions by housewives have proved extremely interesting.

In almost every one the humble sardine plays a very big part, while over three hundred entries gave minced mutton on toast and bread and jam trifles.

It has been decided to award the first prize to Mrs. G. M. Compton, for an "emergency supper" which she served when her husband turned up one night with a friend who was not expected.

ALL IN THIRTY MINUTES.

Mrs. Compton writes:—

I had in the house what most people have as a sort of daily routine stock: Sugar, bread, butter, cold meat, milk, potatoes, Canadian cheese, two eggs, jam and a tin of soup.

The supper consisted of:—

Cream of tomato soup.

Stuffed and roasted potatoes, with cheese.

Queen of puddings.

Soup.—A tin of tomato soup, diluted with milk instead of water, and served with croutons of toast.

Time to prepare and cook—five minutes.

Savoury.—I hastily peeled six large potatoes, cut them into halves and scooped out the inside part. I then filled the hollow with roughly-chopped cold meat, and seasoned with chopped cheese and baked them a golden brown, serving very hot.

Pudding.—While the potatoes were roasting I beat up the yolks of two eggs and beat the whites to a stiff froth. I boiled some milk, mixed it with the eggs and sugar, and poured it over broken bread, beat with a fork until it was fairly smooth and baked in the oven.

When I came to the kitchen to dish the potatoes I spread jam over this bread-and-butter and put the white of eggs in rough heaps on top, and returned to the oven to brown. Delicious.

The meal was hot and satisfying, and was made and served in half an hour.

THE SECOND PRIZE WINNER.

The second prize goes to Mrs. L. Shankland for a very original and economical dish made as follows:—

Any cold meat scraps minced and seasoned. Cut the crusty end of loaf and scoop out crumbs. Fill hollowed crust with mixture and cut a tomato in slices and lay on top.

Creamed small potatoes having first rubbed with oil, and place crust filled with mixture within.

Pour thickened custard or gravy over and bake in oven but overdone to crumbles. Turn out and serve with Yorkshire relish.

It will be found that the bread crust in which the meat is baked takes the place of vegetables.

To be recommended is Mrs. Crack's appetising way of serving tinned salmon.

She mixed with it one egg and a few bread-crumbs, and fried slices of the mixture, which her guest greatly appreciated.

OTHER NEWS IN BRIEF.

Weather Forecast.—Unsettled generally, becoming milder. Lighting-up time to-day 5.7 p.m.

Back to School.—London County Council elementary schools reopen to-morrow.

"Wives are all very well, but they cost such a lot," said a defendant at Willesden.

Torpedo Aeroplane.—Trial flights were made at Le Bourget with a new English torpedo aeroplane, says a Paris message.

Noted Freemason Dead.—Mr. W. H. Gardner, of Egham, who has died, was prominent in Masonic circles throughout the country for nearly thirty years.

Atlantic Fleet to Sail.—The Atlantic Fleet sails from Portland on Wednesday for a southern cruise, calling at Spanish, Portuguese and Mediterranean ports.

Royal Train Driver Dead.—Mr. Thomas Porter, a London and North-Western express driver, who had driven the royal train on many occasions, has died at Crewe.

Brighton Gas Tragedy.—An inquest will be held to-day on Minnie Gorring, the elderly woman of Ickly-road, Brighton, who was found suffering from gas poisoning and died in hospital.

300,000 FRENCH TROOPS AWAIT ORDER TO MARCH

Foch Attends Paris Council to Decide When Advance Into Germany Shall Start.

PLACE RESERVED FOR BRITAIN "IN FUTURE"

America Contemplating New Reparations and Debts Offer to Prevent Ruhr Occupation.

France has completed her plans for marching into Germany. Marshal Foch attended an important meeting in Paris yesterday to decide when the "Advance!" shall be given to the troops.

Great secrecy is being observed concerning the measures to be taken, but there is a Belgian and French army of 300,000 available on the frontier, and a big array of machine guns and aeroplanes is expected to be used.

It is significant that special care is being taken to avoid "incidents" with the British troops at Cologne, and that "a place shall be expressly reserved for Britain in order that she may occupy it when she thinks the time is opportune."

Meanwhile, the U.S. Senate advocates the withdrawal of the American Rhine Army, and the White House is said to be contemplating a new reparations and debts offer to the Allies to avert the Ruhr seizure.

M. POINCARE KEEPING HIS WAR OFFICE TO EJECT PLANS A CLOSE SECRET. EX-SERVICE MEN.

Big Array of Machine Guns and 'Planes for Essen.

BERLIN DEFAULT TO-DAY?

PARIS, Sunday.

An important conference held at the Elysee under the presidency of M. Millerand considered the application of the measures drawn up yesterday morning by the Cabinet.

M. Poincaré, other Ministers and Marshal Foch were present.

The Journal says that the finishing touches are being put to the arrangements for the enforcement of the economic sanctions.

As regards the military measures contemplated, the closest secrecy is being observed.

It may, however, be stated, the newspaper declares, that the demonstration at Essen, when it takes place, will be made with a great deployment of material, such as machine guns, aeroplanes, etc.

The newspaper adds: "One question which has arisen and is being studied with the greatest care by the experts has reference to the presence of British troops in the Cologne district."

"As the British Army is not co-operating in the contemplated measures, it is necessary that the disposition of the French soldiers and Customs officers on the Rhine and at the railway stations shall be made in such a way as to ensure the avoidance of any untoward incidents with British soldiers and officials."

CALL TO BELGIAN RESERVISTS?

"The French Government is making a complete examination into the character of the organisation for taking gages with a view to providing that a place shall be expressly reserved for Britain in order that she may occupy it at such time as she deems opportune."

The Journal understands that the Belgian Government is making arrangements for the calling up of the Militia.

France and Belgium already have 300,000 troops on the German frontier."

The Petit Journal says: "If, as is expected, Germany's failure is proclaimed on Monday, the French Government will be free to act and to apply the measures so long anticipated. It is possible, however, that the sanctions will be postponed until January 15, when a German payment of £25,000,000 is due."

AMERICA MOVES.

Withdrawal of Rhine Troops?—Bid to Stop French Army Marching.

The United States Senate have passed a resolution, by 57 votes to 8, favouring the recall of the remaining American troops on the Rhine.

The final voice for or against withdrawal remains with President Harding.

It is understood authoritatively, says the Exchange Washington correspondent, that the United States efforts to avert the forcible seizure of the Ruhr include:—

(1) A revision of the reparations question in relation to practicability.

(2) The payment of reparations in cash to the Allies shortly from an international loan, provided that reparations are reduced.

(3) Agreement on the part of France to reduce her army.

(4) Agreement on the part of the United States to postpone payment of principal and interest of the Allied debts for about ten years.

The first meeting of the American-British Debt Funding Commission will, says the Central News, take place to-day.

WAR OFFICE TO EJECT EX-SERVICE MEN.

Married Quarters Wanted for Home-Coming Troops.

WHERE TO GO PROBLEM.

By Our Political Correspondent.

There is consternation in hundreds of homes in the country over the decision of the War Office to eject ex-Service men and civilians from the married quarters of the Home Command in consequence of the shortage of accommodation for the Army.

Since the war they have been permitted to occupy, with their families, the depots at Aldershot, Salisbury, Woolwich, York and other places, as this accommodation was not required when the men were demobilised.

With the return of the troops from Ireland, Mesopotamia and Palestine to stations at home, ex-Service men and civilians are required to clear out.

Most of the home-coming soldiers have been separated from their families for four or five years, and they naturally resent the prolongation of the period of enforced separation.

CAUSE OF THE SHORTAGE.

Already it has prevented many men from extending their engagements in the Army beyond the normal periods of five or seven years and thus qualifying for the long-service pension.

This acute shortage of accommodation for married soldiers is due not merely to the difficulty of providing new married quarters at the barracks, but to the high cost of keeping existing quarters in complete repair.

Ample warning is being given to ex-Service men and civilians who are being evicted, and the Army Council is taking such steps as are possible to mitigate inevitable hardships.

The special obligation to find homes for discharged men rests with the local authorities.

Ex-Service men, of course, should at least have equal—if not primary—consideration in the apportionment of such housing accommodation as is available.

RUNAWAY LOVERS.

Girl Bound Over and Man Sent to Prison—Alone in London.

Romance that quickly faded was described at Penryn, Cornwall, when Julia Lilian Blythe, eighteen, of Fushing, near Falmouth, was bound over on a charge of stealing £22 from her father, and Harold M. din, twenty-seven, an ex-sergeant in the D.C.L.I., was sent to prison for two months for receiving the money.

The girl went to the police stating that after they had been in London a few hours Medlin left her and she searched for him in vain. She added: "I stole the money on the impulse of the moment. I asked the young man to take me away."

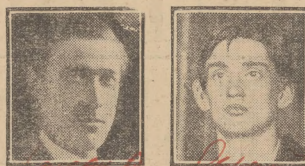

BISHOP'S HERD OF DEER.

The Bishop of Winchester, in deference to local representations, has countermanded the order for the dispersal of the famous herd of deer in Farnham Park.

DOCTOR'S DRUG OFFENCE.

Pleading guilty to prescribing cocaine and morphine for pretended patients, and using them himself, Ronald Sinclair, a young medical practitioner, was fined £25 at Aberdeen.

His solicitor said he had suffered much from addiction, and apparently the drugs were for that trouble.

Mr. Derek G. Erskine, second son of Mr. J. M. Erskine, M.P. has missed first by Sandhurst from Eton and is destined for the Scots Guards.

Bouvier, to be tried to-day on charge of firing at a carriage in a Paris procession, in which Pres. den Millerand and M. Poincaré took part.

GUNMEN DISGUISED AS WOMAN AND PRIEST.

Sentries Shot in Trick Raid on National Troops.

SEVEN HOURS' BATTLE.

Gunmen disguised as a woman and a priest took part, according to official details issued yesterday, in an attack on a small National force at Millstreet, Co. Cork.

Irregulars in overwhelming force made simultaneous attacks on all Free State posts in the town, including the wireless station, which they occupied, capturing the guard.

For over seven hours the little garrison of forty National troops in the Carnegie Library held out, and the irregulars then decamped. The National troops lost one man killed and several wounded.

The first outpost was captured by a trick. Men attired as a priest and a woman shot two sentries. The priest is believed to have been Liam Lynch, the irregular chief of staff.

One hundred and fifty irregulars, using thirteen machine guns, participated in the attack on the main post. A doctor attending the irregulars gives their casualties as seven killed and nineteen wounded.

National troops from Bantry, West Cork, captured ten rifles and 500 rounds of ammunition and five bicycles, and took three prisoners.

IRISH TRAIN WRECKED.

Eight Passengers Are Injured in Collision with Derailed Engine.

Eight passengers were seriously injured when armed raiders caused a railway collision on the line between Dublin and Howth on Saturday.

Seven armed men held up a goods train from Dublin. The engine was detached and sent careering down the line until it reached a point where the rail had been removed. The engine was derailed and obstructed both lines.

A workmen's train from Howth travelling at full speed crashed into the obstruction. Three coaches were destroyed, the passengers having terrifying experiences.

COURTED FOR THIRTY YEARS.

"Met Every Evening but We Could Not Afford to Marry."

How the engagement of a couple who for thirty years were unable to marry, ended in tragedy, was described at a St. Pancras inquest on Robert Stockey, sixty-one, a stonemason, of Jeffrey-street, Kenilworth.

"For thirty years," said his fiancée, "we met every evening. Marriage we could not afford because of his bad luck."

Two years ago, it was stated, he was knocked down by a motor-omnibus in High-street, Camden Town, and he died in St. Pancras Hospital last Tuesday from his injuries.

LIQUOR CARGO HAUL.

Customs Officers Seize Supply from Ship Unable to Sail.

For some time the three-masted schooner Wyfax, of Whitby, has been lying off Bethesda with a cargo of whisky and gin for Quebec.

Following the conviction of two seamen for the theft of seventy bottles of whisky from the vessel, Customs officers have seized some of the liquor.

The vessel cannot sail because she is undermanned.

The reply was, of course, a refusal.—Exchange.

STREETS FLOODED BY CLOUD-BURST.

All-Night Fight Against Destroying Waters.

THAMES RISING.

Bungalow Dwellers Threatened with Isolation.

Following a cloud-burst, torrential rains fell in Crickieth, North Wales, at 4 a.m. yesterday.

Considerable damage was done to the roads, and that leading from Bryntirion-terrace to Main-street was turned into a roaring torrent in full flood.

Owners of threatened property called workmen from their beds, and also aroused the urban council officials, and all through the night they worked hard to divert the onrush from the houses.

Houses in the low-lying Wellington-terrace suffered heavily.

Daybreak witnessed furniture and carpets being brought into the street, as though the owners were preparing for an auction.

A chest of drawers was sailing like a boat on a river, while soil from back gardens was washed into the cottages and turned the parlours into veritable quagmires.

THAMES MOUNT ARARATS.

Bungalow Dwellers' Plight Amid Rising Waters at Chertsey.

The Thames is still rising.

Bungalow dwellers at Runnymede were still "carrying on" yesterday, but, although they all profess optimism, they know that at any moment they may be stranded, each as it were, on his own Mount Ararat.

This disaster has already overtaken some people at Chertsey and Walton Bridge.

But perhaps the worst sufferers are at Shepperton, where the sharp bends in the river tend to hold the water.

Many acres of ground are flooded here. "I am determined to hold on as long as I can keep my head above water," a cheerful war-spirit told The Daily Mirror, as, water-proofed and gum-boated, she landed from a punt at the door of her bungalow.

"The only thing I regret is that I was not born with webbed feet. It would simplify things so much if you happen to live by the riverside in winter. They may develop, however—the webbed feet, I mean—if I stay here much longer. Already I feel more or less amphibious."

FISHERMEN PLEASED.

Anglers declared themselves to be perfectly satisfied with the condition of the river. The flood, they said, was bringing down the fish.

One enthusiast arrived at Sunbury on a motor-cycle. It was impossible to fish from the flooded banks, so he perched himself on the back of one of the seats on the submerged promenade, and plied his rod from there.

Unsympathetic villagers declared that his "chunk" for fish was a piece of coal!

One of the biggest areas of flood water in Lincolnshire, Cambridgeshire and Northants extends from Spalding to Crowland, and on towards Peterborough.

Owing to the floods in Yorkshire, the funeral of Mrs. Alice Hayhoe, of the Half Moon Inn, Breighton, and her son, had to be conducted partly by water. The coffins and the mourners were rowed across the fields to the new village, whence motor-cars completed the journey to the cemetery.

FRENCH BOATS CAPSIZE.

Four Men Drowned—Seine Floods Inundating Plains.

PARIS, Sunday.

During a violent storm yesterday two fishing boats, the General de Rosmorduc and Rose Saint Gildas, capsized and sank off Brest.

Three of the crew of the first-named vessel were saved, but the fourth man perished.

Of the crew of the second boat three were drowned and one was saved.

The River Seine is rising again, and the inundation is spreading over the entire plain between Nogent and Marnay.—Exchange.

WAR BABY PROBLEM.

Guardians Urge That Law Should Be Altered to Help Mothers.

When Amphill Guardians were informed that neither a war widow nor a war invalid could be given relief because one of the children was an illegitimate war baby, several members urged on Saturday that the law should be altered to assist women who "lapsed" in the war. The family in question had been kept by charity.

FOR THE BETTER ADORNMENT OF BEAUTY: FIVE OF FASHION'S FINEST GEMS

A long and boldly-patterned flouncing of yellow lace is here shown to striking effect against the background of a simply-cut gown of black velvet.—(Christabel Russell.)

A fascinating air of youth is imparted to the wearer of this unusual model in black chiffon velvet. A collar of real lace gives becoming finish.—(Christabel Russell.)

The use of paradise plumes, handsomely tinted and mounted high in the front, achieves distinction in the trimming of this wide-brimmed hat of black satin.—(Viola.)

A quaint feather mount, perched precariously on the prettily pleated brim, adds attraction to another model in black satin which possesses marked appeal in its shaping alone.

Admiration for this beautiful gown grows with the realisation that it is carried out in cherry-red, while the decorative scheme is wrought in pearls.

AT THE "FILM" DOORS.

SO far we have not heard much about the new licensing regulations for London cinemas. But apparently the distinction between "adult" and "universal" films will be enforced in a few days.

Unfortunately exhibitors will then have to decide whether any "young person" is really as young as he or she looks, and whether, therefore, she or he is to be excluded from Film "A"; and whether, if such a "young person" is accompanied by an older man or woman, that woman or man is that "young person's" parent or lawful guardian.

All this, it seems, will be investigated at the door or at the pay-box.

Do you know the nuisance of being kept waiting while "persons," old or young, wrangle at doors?

Few have escaped this common torture of all who travel by rail, or enter places of amusement. Few, therefore, will look forward to the New Year prospect of filling up forms (as it were) before entering cinemas.

We anticipate a dense crowd of arguing patrons in the vestibule of all houses where an "A" Film is about to be shown. In fact, we imagine that "A" Films will usually be shown right through before the crowd at the doors gets permission to go inside.

WIVES WHO WORK.

A POLICE court case on Saturday raised again (without settling it) the question whether a husband is legally compelled to support a wife who is earning her own living.

It is a pity that domestic differences so often lead to an appeal to the law on matters more reasonably to be settled—domestically.

Presumably most "independent" women workers would be very unwilling to apply to the husbands with whom they do not agree for "grants in aid." They would be ready enough to rely on their own resources; and perhaps, by so doing, they might better invite respect from negligent men than by trying to extort a grudging contribution from them.

TAXICAB TEMPERS.

WILL taxicab fares be reduced during this year?

A controversy on the subject is still raging within the Motor-cab Protection Society, and we need hardly say that drivers "will not hear of any reduction."

People who are compelled to use taxicabs frequently would obviously welcome lower fares—on first thoughts.

But, thinking again, they may decide that anything would be better than to arouse the sleeping spirit of the average taxicabman to its wartime pitch of rebellion.

Who does not remember the war taxi?

Who would not dread the return of the various recalcitrant taxi types?—the fierceness of protesting drivers, their refusal to take one to any appreciable distance from their mysterious homes and garages, their blind eyes resolutely turned against the cries and signals of those whose appearance or dress they happened to dislike, their fierce ruling of the road against the mere client; and, at last, their exorbitant discontent with any fare humbly handed them on a dark night?

Since then taxis have become numerous and taxi-temperers have improved.

Would lower fares mean a renewal of the old attitude of war to the knife against all-comers?

If so (thinks the passenger) better keep to the higher fares and the milder temperers.

THROUGH "THE MIRROR."

Trial by Petition—Schoolboy Confessions—The Business Woman's Age—Dog Licences.

THE CRIME CONFESSED.

ONE wintry morning, over half a century ago, my brother and myself were sorting over the letters that had just arrived.

We recognised the long envelope with our school crest on it as containing our "reports," and the flap of the envelope was unstuck. Oh! Horror! Temptation came upon us, so that our moral fibre came unstuck, too.

We examined the reports, only to find that for utter badness they far exceeded our worst anticipation.

I thrust the incriminating documents, envelope and all, into the hottest part of the breakfast-room fire. The light ash, covered with attractive little red sparks, had scarcely floated up the chimney when father entered the room.

We felt guilty, but no mention of those reports was ever made; and not only did I win my brother's undying admiration for my prompt action, but we spent the jolliest Christmas holidays that either of us can remember.

LANCLOTT SPEED.

CARELESSNESS.

I HAVE known several occasions when mistresses at school have commented on the supposed work of a girl in the space opposite a subject which she does not take at all—proving that there is a considerable amount of carelessness in making out a school report.

A mistress who teaches singing to a large class cannot possibly be expected to know the quality of the voice and work of each of her pupils. But she always succeeds in writing enough to satisfy the proud parent.

M. E.

DOG LICENCES.

MANY thanks for your leader's suggestion that people should be more careful about deciding to keep dogs, if they cannot really afford to do so.

"One point occurs to me. How can people afford to feed a dog well, if they cannot afford to pay for its licence at the end of the year?"

ANOTHER DOG LOVER.

[The leader referred to appeared only in our early editions of Friday.]

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Let us know what to love, and we shall know also what to reject; what to affirm, and we shall know also what to deny. But it is dangerous to begin with denial and fatal to end with it.—Carlyle.

PETITIONS.

PERHAPS those well-meaning members of the public who are in the habit of signing petitions for condemned murderers do not understand that the Home Secretary cannot be swayed by a few tons weight of writing-paper deposited at his door.

It would be better to get up a petition for the abolition of capital punishment altogether! May I add that a reprieve in the Ilford case would practically have meant such abolition?

UGHT THE DEAD TO BRIBE THE LIVING?

WHY CONDITIONAL WILLS ARE UNDESIRABLE.

By PHILIP RITCHIE.

A FEW days ago a will was published in which the testator urged those to whom he left his money not to do certain things.

Gambling and mixed marriages were the two habits to which he specially objected.

Neither of these objections is very unreasonable, and, in any case, he only made a "strong request" and not a command.

But documents like this are by no means uncommon. They raise the question of how far wills ought never to contain any conditions.

The law, of course, refuses to recognise an "immoral" condition, but then the law's standard of morality is not always what might be desired. If I leave my nephew £5,000 on condition that he assaults my dentist, blows up the Albert Memorial, or, in fact, does anything obviously "scandalous," the law allows him to take the cash without fulfilling the condition.

But there are plenty of other immoral conditions which are not recognised as such by the law.

For instance, it seems to me very undesirable that a man's religion should be dictated to him by his potential balance at the bank. A young man might thus be driven to the conclusion that, if he did not hold four acres next hand, he would become a Catholic the next day.

I once knew a man who became a parson because his father left him money to do so.

RELIGIOUS BRIBES.

The result, as anybody but his father could have foretold, was unfortunate both for the Church and for the man.

Nothing is more disastrous than such religious interferences.

There was a story current in Oxford at one time that for every convert made the convert received £10 from the Pope. This, of course, was only a joke, but such a course would be far less absurd than to bribe the man himself to adopt some religion, which is, in fact, what many testators do.

Instances of possible conditions could be extended indefinitely.

In my malicious moments I like to imagine various ways in which I could annoy my acquaintances (particularly the rich ones, who would be more likely to submit to any conditions in order to increase their incomes). "To my friend Miss Saveup £500 on condition that she always gave her guests a fire in their bedrooms."

"To Mrs. Hidebound £200 on condition that she is never seen in a station more than ten minutes before her train goes."

"To my dear friend Mr. Bull, £2,000, provided that he never again has roast beef for lunch on Sundays."

And what an exquisite mental struggle I could set working in the mind of my uncle Adolphus, who has £50,000 a year, by leaving him "£5 on condition that he is never again heard saying 'I can't afford it.'"

But I fear these pleasant imaginings of mine are highly immoral. Whether one believes in progress or not, it is clearly bad that the dead should control the living by this method of posthumous bribery.

IN MY GARDEN.

JANUARY 7.—Seed potatoes should now be placed in wooden trays and kept in a cool house that receives plenty of light. Ground intended for potatoes must be got ready by deep digging whenever dry and open conditions prevail.

Manure should not be added, but ash from the garden fire, and leaf-mould may be incorporated with the soil.

In order to obtain an early supply of rhubarb some of the crowns should now be covered with litter; or large pots and tubs can be placed over the roots.

THE COMING BUDGET.

New West End Play—Royal Holidays Over—in Love with Literature.

THE LATEST TREASURY CIRCULAR to the Government Departments calling for further "cuts" in expenditure is regarded by the supporters of the Ministry as proof of their desire to lighten the burden of the taxpayer. With a full year's interest on the American debt to be paid next year and a reduction of revenue by the remissions of taxation in the Budget last May, the full effect of which will not be felt till 1923-24, there must obviously be sweeping economies in Whitehall if the Chancellor is to be in a position to reduce the income tax in the coming spring.

"Les Misérables."

Mr. Bonar Law was undoubtedly disappointed at the early break-up of the Paris Conference, but I venture to say that his disappointment was not half so poignant as that of three girl typists who accompanied the British delegation. They left London in high glee at the prospect of seeing the gay city, but were kept so busy that all they saw of Paris was a brief glimpse during half an hour's walk on the day they were hustled back to London. Consequently they are unable to speak with any authority on the latest fashions. It is one of the minor tragedies of the Conference.

Back to Work.

Members of the Royal Family will be finishing their respective holidays in the course of a few days, and will be returning to London to begin the work of the year. The King has already arranged to visit the Royal Agricultural College at Cirencester, and the Prince's engagement list is well filled for the next few weeks. The Duke of York's first public dinner after the holiday will be that of the Industrial Welfare Society.

Ex-Governor of South Australia.

Next week Sir Archibald and Lady Weigall are leaving Petwood, Woodhall Spa, for the South of France, and will be away for three months. Sir Archibald gave up the Governor-Generalship some months ago, and at one time was M.P. for the Horncliffe Division. He served in the South African war and received the K.C.M.G. three years ago. Lady Weigall is the only child of the late Sir Blundell Maple.

Cutting Better.

The Duke of Richmond is receiving many messages of congratulation on his recovery from the illness he contracted in Christmas week. His condition at one time, I hear, was very serious, and gave rise to considerable anxiety amongst his friends. In his seventy-seventh year, the Duke has played many parts as soldier, politician, landowner, county councillor and magistrate.

Harry Green's New Play.

It is now decided, I hear, that we shall see Mr. Harry Green in a new play when he returns from America at the end of this month; that is, at least, when he finds a suitable theatre in the West End. "Quite Human" is its title, and it deals with the City and Society and combines drama, pathos and comedy. Green is to have a part quite different from anything he has done yet.

Miss Fanny Bowman.

A Lover. "It is not a Jewish play, but Mr. Green will be a smart young Jew engaged in financial work in the City," Miss Fanny Bowman, the author, told me. The character, I gather, will be rather whimsical, but there is to be a very serious love interest that will enable the sympathetic comedian, who made "Welcome Stranger," to show us how he can out-Romeo Romeo.

TO-DAY'S GOSSIP

News and Views About Men, Women, and Affairs in General

Dreams of Home.

M. Paderewski, threatened with assassination in America, must be wishing that he was back on his estate at Morges where he was accustomed, before the war, to keep open house for musical artists of all countries who were down on their luck. He was once asked how he disposed of these Bohemian companions when, at sometimes happened, a passing royalty accepted an invitation to dine with him.

"Until Sent For."

"It is a simple matter," he replied. "The more presentable of my guests sit at table with the royal visitor. Those of them who are not so presentable are sent off in an omnibus to dine, at my expense, at the hotel; and they are strictly enjoined on no account to return until they are sent for."

Barrister Dramatists.

Mr. Patrick Hastings, K.C., who has celebrated his return to Parliament by entertaining 8,000 children in his constituency to tea and the cinema, has aspirations as a dramatist. In a recent law case it was disclosed that he had written two plays and submitted them to Mr. Arthur Bourchier, who had, however, returned them. A barrister who has attained some distinction as a playwright is Mr. E. G. Hemmerde, K.C.

Legless M.P.'s Future.

There has been a good deal of discussion as to the effect of the will of the late Alderman Cohen upon his son, Major J. B. Cohen, the legless M.P. The will expressed the earnest wish that none of the sons, while engaged in certain businesses, should be a member of Miss Jessie Morris, of Pletty, Glamorgan, and Captain E. W. Parker, of the Royal West Kent Regiment, who will be married shortly.

Parliament. As a matter of fact, Major Cohen is not engaged in any of the businesses specified, and so he will no doubt continue to be wheeled about the House of Commons and to take an active part in the affairs of the British Legion.

Author of "Tell England."

Many who read "Tell England," the story of a public school and Gallipoli, are unaware that the author is the Rev. Ernest Raymond, now on the staff of the Parish Church at Brighton. In a few weeks' time he is to join the Rev. "Tabby" Clayton at All Hallows by the Tower, in order to help the "Toc. H." movement, in which the Prince of Wales takes such an active personal interest.

In Love with Literature.

M. Sacha Guitry's new play, which we shall doubtless see in London before long, is evidently based upon the story of Balzac's unhappy marriage. The novelist, it will be remembered, was pursued for many years by the lady who eventually became his wife; and he then discovered that she was in love, not with him, but with the literary position which she considered that he ought to occupy.

"Pop" in Advertising.

There is a certain quality in American advertising which is to be found, I imagine, in no other country. The other day I came across the following headline to an "ad." in one of the New York papers:—"How tall will you be when the boss comes a-measuring with his salary yard-stick?" As our transatlantic friends are apt to say, "Can you beat it?"

Miss McCallum's Marriage.

The Duke and Duchess of Atholl are not returning to London from Perthshire until next month. When Miss McCallum's marriage to Commander Harrison-Wallace, R.N., takes place the Duchess will probably be responsible for the arrangements, as Miss McCallum is practically her ward, and has been taken about everywhere by her. The Duchess of Atholl is one of our few really dark-haired peresses, and although pure Scottish, she might easily pass for Italian.

The Terrible Turk.

Riza Nour Bey, whose violent outburst has suddenly upset the Lausanne Conference, is a doctor of medicine. During the war he was living in Egypt, having quarrelled with the Committee of Union and Progress, and was on the best of terms with the British authorities. He does not seem to consider a good bedside manner necessary at international conferences.

Dance at York.

Lady Nunburnholme's dance at York is one of the several she has given for her daughter, the Hon. Monica Wilson, but the others have been at her town house. This is at the corner of Hill-street and Berkeley-square, and possesses a particularly nice staircase. On these occasions a marquee is generally set up on the roof over the dining-room and makes a very useful addition to the house.

Musical Lovers' Friend.

The centenary of the birth of Henry Littleton, an event of great interest to musicians, was quietly celebrated the other day. Mr. Littleton, who died in 1888, founded the world-famed publishing house of Novello and Co. Nearly fifty years ago he started daily concerts at the Albert Hall, at one of the last of which Verdi conducted his "Requiem."

In Egypt.

Lord Ribblesdale, who is so much better in health, is in Belgrave-square. Lady Ribblesdale, who seldom winters in England, is in Egypt with her daughter. She usually visits St. Moritz, being an expert at winter sports and especially keen about tobogganing.

Grantham Hospital Ball.

A Lincolnshire event vying in social importance with the Stamford Infirmary Ball of last Wednesday is the Grantham Hospital Ball, fixed for Thursday next. Most of the big houses in the neighbourhood will have parties for it, including Belton House, whose chateaine, Lady Brownlow, is the patroness, and there will be a big assembly of followers of the Belvoir, who regard this Grantham ball as specially their own.

Back to the Deluge.

Those Thames-side dwellers who are now lamenting a river in flood may find some consolation in the reflection that Thames floods are not what they were. Here, for instance, is a picture drawn by a monkish chronicler of Abingdon in 1269:—"On the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin, there was much rain, and such floods of water that, it is said, no such terrible a sight had been seen either before or since the deluge of Noah; the waters continued to increase for more than forty days."

New Year's Party.

I hear that Lady Eva Wyndham-Quin has joined the New Year house party at Petworth House. Lady Eva knows Petworth well and is related to Lord Leonfield, owing to her father's marriage to one of the Wyndhams. Her husband, Colonel Wyndham-Quin, is the heir to the Earldom of Dunraven.

To-day's Child Story.

The little boy was putting away all the food that he could. "How can you eat so much?" asked his astonished mother. "Don't know," he replied. "I expect it's just good luck."

Popular Actor.

One of the most popular actors on and off the stage is Mr. Louis Goodrich, whose performance in "The Man Who Came Back" is still spoken of by those who saw the play. He has also acted with Miss Gladys Cooper in "Home and Beauty" and in "The Thing That Matters." By the way, Mr. Goodrich is not and never has been, the secretary of the Green Room Club.

To Luxor.

The Hon. Aubrey Herbert, I understand, is shortly going to Luxor, Egypt, to see the treasures found by his brother, Lord Carnarvon. Mr. Herbert has been badly troubled by his eyes, and it was on a visit to a celebrated oculist abroad that Mrs. Herbert lost her pearls.

Mr. Louis Goodrich.

PIP, SQUEAK AND WILFRED

"NEWSPAPER-LAND."

Daily Mirror Office.

MY DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS:—

Like many of you, the pets expect The Daily Mirror to arrive every morning just the same as the sun rises above the tree-tops or the milkman calls with the milk. It is one of the ordinary, everyday things that happens, so why worry about it?

And yet, have you ever thought how The Daily Mirror happens; why it is that, wherever you live, there is your favourite paper always calmly waiting for you on the breakfast table?

If you wish to solve these mysteries you must visit "newspaper-land," and I doubt then whether you will be much wiser. For, in appearance, it is rather a dusty and dull-looking place, with newsboys rushing frantically about in all directions and a noise like the roaring of hundreds of caged lions coming from the basements of almost every building. This din comes from the huge printing presses which shower out newspapers at lightning speed.

If you could see the great army of people—the compositors, engravers, machine-minders, packers, distributors, etc., etc., who help to supply you with the paper you hold in your hands, you would be greatly astonished, I can tell you!

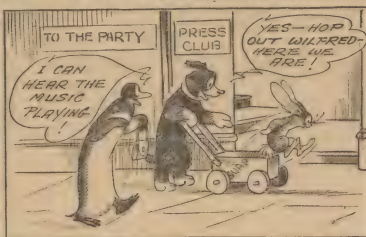

And yet "newspaper-land," despite its noise and its bustle, is really a most romantic place. Pip, Squeak and Wilfred thought so anyway, when, on Saturday last, they visited a children's party held in "the street of ink" and found that editors and writers generally were quite human and even had boys and girls of their own!

Your affectionate
Uncle Dick

PETS GO TO A PARTY IN "NEWSPAPER LAND."

1. Pip, Squeak and Wilfred went to a children's party over the week-end.

2. The party was at the Press Club, in Fleet-street, where the newspapers are brought out.

3. They found themselves in the cloak-room, and Squeak tried to hang up her little bag.

4. The result was that all the hats and coats came tumbling down on top of them!

5. Just then a kindly gentleman came in and said the children were waiting for them.

6. It was a real editor, and he led the pets into the room where the party was being held.

THE BIRD WHO CHANGES HUE The Strange Legend of the King Parrot.

THE sad-looking bird you see here is the King Parrot, of Australia. He doesn't look much like a king, does he? That is just what is making him so miserable. There is a strange legend about the King Parrot, but whether it is true or not I really can't say.

An unhappy King.

In appearance the King Parrot is small, and in summer even dull, with his grey-green coat. But in the winter, strangely enough, his plumage very gradually changes until he is a brilliant scarlet from beak to tail. This is the story of his strange change.

Once upon a time, at the beginning of the world, the King Parrot was not as he is now. His feathers were of purest silver colour, and he was monarch among the whole of the parrot tribes. As he was sitting brooding by a stream one day his eyes alighted on some dragon-flies which were hovering near by. "Ah!" he thought enviously, "if only I possessed a pair of wings like that with which to adorn my head, I am King and yet I have no crown or crest. Why, even the egret has a waving plume on his head!"

PARTY PUNISHMENT. With this thought he dashed after several of the dragon-flies and killed them. Then he proceeded to rob them of their wings, but alas! they were no longer glittering and bright, and the King Parrot looked at them with wrath and disappointment.

Suddenly a great and powerful fairy appeared, and, waving her magic wand over the parrot, she cried: "Vain and miserable bird! For your wickedness you shall lose all your silver feathers! All through the summer you shall be dull green, to show that you are an envious bird, and in the winter, in order to avenge the innocent victims you have slain, you shall be bright red from beak to tail!"

PRIZEWINNERS.

Quaker Milk Macaroni

THE BEST MACARONI MADE

The big reduction in price of Quaker Milk Macaroni has been widely welcomed. Threepence off the shilling packet means that you get four packets of this delicious Milk Macaroni at the former price of three. Remember Quaker Macaroni has milk already in it. That is why it is so superior to ordinary macaroni in flavour and nourishment. It replaces many a costly meat meal.

LADIES' MIRROR

JONQUIL DAYS—QUIETER DANCES.

I ALWAYS feel I want to say "Thank you" to somebody when the jonquils begin to be sold in the streets. Darling little flowers that smell divinely, last a long while and enhance almost any colour scheme. No wonder colour specialists advocate yellow for depressed patients and tell us that if we all painted our rooms the colour of the sun the aspirin trade would languish or entirely disappear. And as the simple jonquil always sends a dance to my toes and an absurd little tune running through my head, I'm sure they must be right.

FASHIONABLE COLOUR.

When I tell you that yellow in every known and unknown shade is still having a great vogue, you'll think my remarks about jonquils were a mere leading-up to this announcement—but they weren't, really. Visitors to the sunny South are warned by their modistes to pack many yellow hats. Perhaps this is because the background made by the blue Mediterranean is so harmonious.

A soft pull-on toque of supple straw in tan colour calls for a quill of Lincoln green and would look well with a beige suit.

MICHAEL RINDER, the dancing authority, writes me from the Riviera, of a new dance called "The Blues," which is a kind of slow and dreamy fox-trot. It sounds rather attractive. The tango, too, is much slower and quieter, he says, and the handsome young Grand Duke Dimitri, who is holiday-ing in Monte Carlo, dances both with considerable skill. Being a somewhat lazy person, I rejoice to hear that dancing will remain quiet. "Scrums" were good fun in their way, but they were wearing, as many a ruined dance frock lives to tell.

A COMING EVENT.

Preparations are afoot for the Punch and Judy Ball, which will be held on February 1 under the auspices of the British Drama League, and which promises to be excellent fun. There are to be special prizes for costumes representing Punch and Judy through the centuries, and many novel and exciting surprises are promised.

BIGGER HATS.

I hear from Paris that the little cloche shaped hat we've loved and worn for so long is banned by the leaders of fashion. Instead large and still larger hats are coming in, and they will all be trimmed with wide-spreading aigrettes or a shower of plumes. This is an indication that the long draped frocks are going to remain popular. With them, little hats look slightly ridiculous, unless they be our old and always becoming friend the closely swathed turban. PHILLIDA.

We go a-sailing in the dearest little hats of brightly-coloured felt simply trimmed with ribbon or a blunt-edged quill.

The prettiest face can wear the plainest hats, and this one is extra becoming owing to the irregular brim.

A New Charm

Came to millions in this way

Millions of people have gained new charm through whiter, prettier teeth. You see them everywhere. The reason lies in a new cleaning method. Careful people of some fifty nations are using it to-day.

Test this method if you do not know it. People all about you have proved its importance. See what it means to you.

Combats the film

One purpose is to combat film on teeth—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and remains. It absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Then it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth and the acids may cause decay.

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So, under old methods, tooth troubles constantly increased, and beautiful teeth were seen less often than to-day.

Two ways found

To meet this situation, dental science searched for ways to fight film, and two ways were found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research.

The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it. Then dentists the world over began to advise its use.

Other factors

But Pepsodent brings other effects which old ways did not bring. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids which may cause tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus it gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. And everywhere this means to people a new dental era.

Watch the man

Men who smoke find that tobacco particularly stains that film. Such men see conspicuous results. But most people's teeth, of every age, are clouded more or less.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

That test will give you new ideas of what clean teeth mean. You will want your family to always have them, we believe. Cut out the coupon now.

IRRESISTIBLE DANCING

ANY afternoon or evening you will find dancers of reputation enjoying the finest facilities in London at the Palais de Danse, Hammersmith. But it is not only the experts who make the Palais a habit; earnest beginners, eager intermediaries, youngsters, middle-aged folk, and many in the very autumn of life seek here the joy, hope and perhaps forgetfulness which good dancing promotes.

The secret of this irresistible appeal lies not alone in its wonderful music, or its far-famed floor, or its tasteful Oriental decorations and lighting scheme, nor yet in the Bohemian spirit which prevails but in the inspired harmonisation of all these attractions, deliberately conceived and subtly executed.

BIG PUSH OF THE LONDON SHOPS.

Winter Sales That Offer Great Bargains.

THIS WEEK'S LIST.

The winter sales are now in full swing, and what with reduced railway fares and other contributing factors, London's shops are really crowded. Seldom have so many real bargains of every description been offered.

To-day commences the great annual sale at the Galeries Lafayette, where, among many astounding bargains, there are exquisitely-made crepe de Chine dresses at 15s. 11d., and some excellent heavy wool sports coats at 13s. 6d.

French corsets are always to be recommended for their suppleness and excellence of cut, and there is a supply of these at only 10s. a pair. The public are strongly advised to shop there as early as possible, as there are no large quantities of any of the above-mentioned articles.

SILK UNDERWEAR.

At Whiteley's are some extraordinary bargains in sheets, which can be had in strong white cotton (double-bed size) at 14s. 9d. a pair. Here, too, French government silk—most practical of washing materials for underwear and children's frocks—is being sold, in over sixty shades, at 1s. 0.3d. a yard.

That warm dressing-gown which we all need so much for these chillous winter mornings is being offered at Messrs. Shoolbred's clearance sale, starting to-day, for only 15s. 9d. It will not be amiss, either, to lay in a stock of the reliable all-wool cashmere socks here for father, which are priced as low as 1s. 9d. per pair.

Pretty flapper pieces will always appreciate the gift of a dress-length in dainty flowered voile, and as these are being offered at Liberty's for only 10s. each, it would seem a pity to miss the opportunity of obtaining a few.

For the newly-married, the announcement that Marshall Roberts are allowing 10 per cent. discount on all purchases of linoleum and carpets during this sale, should be full of interest.

SOME DAINTY FROCKS.

Dainty frocks, the dancings and the like need dainty underwear to set them off, and every woman should make an effort to secure one or two of the indispensable princess styles offered by Messrs. Arding and Hobbs in a splendid range of materials at 12s. 6d. each.

Harrods have an amazing collection of attractive bargains. There is, for instance, a delightful suit, the coat being of velveteen and the skirt of soft-woolen material with Roman stripes, at 75s., and a very practical knitted suit for sports in brushed wool (with unbrushed skirt) at 35s. 9d.

Some smart two-bar shoes with the new low heel so fashionable, in tan, yellow calf, patent or suede, are offered at only 20s.

The winter sale at Messrs. Debenham and Freckbody also commences to-day. They have some exquisitely simple crepe de Chine nightdresses, finished with hem-stitching, at 25s. 6d. each, and a very smart sleeveless silk and tinsel broche tea-suit at 98s. 6d.

TWEED CLOTHING FOR 39s. 11d.

Messrs. Jones and Higgins, of Peckham, have a most bewitching silk taffeta frock, trimmed with coquettish gauged tulle, at 12s. 11d., and a well-tailored costume in good-quality tweed may be possessed for 39s. 11d.

Messrs. Holdron's, also of Peckham, are showing a practical and well-cut coat of waterproofed tweed at 27s. 11d., and some pretty all-wool Botany serge coat-frocks at 25s. 11d. each.

An important point, well worth remembering, is that Peter Robinson's sale closes next Saturday.

At one o'clock on that day the removal from the old part of their main premises will begin, and the new premises will be open at nine o'clock on Monday morning. The present week is, therefore, very important as a clearance sale in the truest sense, and there are thousands of bargains to be had in "everything for everybody's wear."

67 YEARS MARRIED.

Woman Who Treasures Invitation for Crimea Peace Festival.

At a New Year's gathering at Bowden Hill, near Chippenham, were present Mr. and Mrs. George Webb, who have lived in the village all their lives and have been married thirty-seven years, having celebrated both the golden and diamond anniversaries of their marriage.

Mr. Webb was ninety years of age on New Year's Day, and Mrs. Webb recently reached her eighty-eighth birthday.

Mrs. Webb was interviewed how her early days were spent at Allington, Chippenham. She was married just after the Indian Mutiny. She proudly produced an invitation card to a peace festival at Leacock after the close of the Crimean War and a few weeks after they were married.

A Gorsedd bard of over forty years' standing, Mr. Edward Samuel, of Ilchlenny, celebrated his golden wedding on Saturday.

DOG REVEALS TRAGEDY.

Excited barking by a dog led to a neighbour's discovery that Frederick Tressler, 58, a gardener, of Frensham, near Farnham, was suffering from a throat wound.

Tressler had been ill for some time and his wife was at the moment on her way to get medicine from a doctor.

KU KLUX KLAN.

Secret Society That Aims to Dominate Europe.

TERRIBLE CRIMES.

The report of the recently-perpetrated crimes by the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana, coupled with the statement of Edward Young Clarke (the Imperial Kludge), of the impending invasion of the British Isles by this society, raises an unpleasant query in the mind of the European citizen.

According to Reuter, the Louisiana outrages consisted in the slow and diabolical torturing to death of two men living in that State. The report adds that the arms and legs of one of the men had been brutally severed during life, and that the second victim had apparently been slowly crushed to death.

The American membership is said to number no fewer than 860,000 at the present time, and the society is said to recruit at an equal number in Europe. In order to facilitate their work in this direction, the ban formerly imposed against Roman Catholics will be rescinded.

The present Klan organisation is a throw-back to the little society created at Pulaski, Tennessee, in 1865, by a few white Southern planters, with the object of protecting themselves against the negroes.

Their motto was "White Supremacy," and they terrified the blacks by night parades of silent horsemen clad in white sheets and hoods, who declared themselves to be the wandering dead from the battlefields.

Their name was derived from the Greek word "Kuklos," meaning a circle, and Klan was spelt with a K merely for alliteration.

In March, 1871, the Klan was formally disbanded by Act of Congress, but it continued to live secretly, and crimes of the most brutal order were committed in its name.

The negro question has to-day been largely set aside in favour of their anti-Jew, anti-Catholic, anti-Alien organisation, and their work has been transformed from the old "White Supremacy" to "The 100 per Cent. American."

The enterprise is now conducted on the lines of a great modern business which sells its membership at £2 a head, of which 50 per cent. goes into the treasury of the Invisible Empire.

They have a war fund of over £28,000, and a palatial headquarters and factory for the manufacture of the members' costumes are being erected at Atlanta, at a cost of £400,000 and £938,000 respectively.

TABLE TENNIS ENTRIES.

Great Eleventh Hour Rush for Our Contest Forms.

The eleventh-hour rush for entry forms in The Daily Mirror Table Tennis Championships is exceeding all expectations. Requests for supplies are pouring in from conjurers and individual players all over the United Kingdom.

"I am in urgent need of 2,000 more entry forms and rules immediately," writes Mr. Harry Hillman, the Birmingham area organiser. "It is typical of the many requests contained in a record week-end post."

Entries will definitely close on January 15, and the preliminary games will begin immediately after that date.

London competitors have now several opportunities of inspecting the Calthorpe cars which are being offered as first prizes in the championships. To-day one will be placed on view at the premises of Messrs. Arding and Hobbs, Clapham Junction, and to-morrow the store will be visited at noon by the car on which The Daily Mirror pets (in effigy) are seen playing the game.

Another Calthorpe prize car can be seen in the window of Messrs. Mann, Egerton and Co., Ltd., 379-381, Euston-road, N.W., the London and Home Counties agents from whom the cars are being purchased. By Wednesday it is hoped that a car will be on view in the window of Messrs. Bentalls, Ltd., of Kingston.

Special window displays in connection with the table tennis championships will be held today at the premises of Messrs. Farrold and Sons, Ltd., Market-street, Cambridge, and Messrs. Herbert Robinson, Ltd., Regent-street, Cambridge. At the latter a prize car will be on view.

Entry forms should be applied for at once by all who intend to compete. Simply forward a stamped addressed envelope to "The Editor, Daily Mirror Table Tennis Championships, 25-29, Bowditch-street, E.C. 4," and forms and rules will be sent by return.

MYSTERY FIRE DEATH.

Body Found on Premises That Had Been Set Alight.

An open verdict was returned at the Hendon inquest on Saturday on Thomas Chandless, whose charred body was found in his printing works at The Broadway, E.C. 4, a fire. Captain F. W. Adams, chief of the fire brigade, said the premises had been set on fire. He found a tin of petrol, about half-filled, and some sacking also smelt strongly of petrol. The man was dressed only in his shirt and pants. Miss Leggett, a compositor, said she had never known petrol to be used for cleaning type in the works.

Mr. McBurnie said that Chandless, his stepson, was "just turning the corner" in his business.

UNDER BOTH CODES—LEAGUE GAMES AND THE INTERNATIONAL RUGBY TRIAL

Lively times during headwork near the Bradford City goal. The Crystal Palace team proved too good by 2 goals to none.

Nimble work by Ewart, Bradford City's custodian, who gave a brilliant display. Busily engaged, he brought off some wonderful saves.

Mercer leaping to clear for Hull City against Manchester United, who won by the odd goal in five.

Southampton's goal threatened in the match with Fulham at Fulham. A draw one all resulted.

The Southampton goalkeeper outwitted by Osborne in the scoring of Fulham's goal.

Middlesbrough's goalie surviving an anxious moment in an attack by Spurs, who gained the victory by two clear goals.

A duel between Butler, of Oldham, and Hainill, of Manchester City, who were successful by 3-nil.

Rugby between London Welsh and Coventry, who won by 10 points to 5.

Studies in expression in the international Rugby trial, England v. The Rest.

A Rest player passing on being tackled during the match at Twickenham.

Supporters of football under both codes were well catered for at the week-end, with League battles galore and Rugby trial games. The international trial at Twickenham proved rather one-sided, the England team winning by 30 points to 8. They managed, however, to show themselves capable of a sound and consistent display.—(Daily Mirror.)

PRESTON SCORE FIVE TIMES AND WIN BY 3 TO 2!

Hamilton's Luckless Experience Against Villa. BURNLEY'S SHOCK.

Arsenal Checked at Stoke— Spurs Take Revenge.

In addition to a full programme of League matches, two international trials were decided on Saturday, England defeating the Rest by 39 points to 8 at Twickenham and the South Amateurs proving too good for the North at Bishop Auckland. In the League the best performance was Sheffield United's 4 to 1 victory at Burnley.

PRESTON'S UNIQUE WIN.

Hat Trick by Marquis Gets North End Home Against Villa.

There was a dramatic touch about the meeting of Preston North End and Aston Villa. The first half had some interesting incidents, but the play generally was poor. In the second half Preston players found the net five times—three times for themselves and twice for Aston Villa. Hamilton was the most important player in each instance. First he turned through his own goal a centre by Dorrell, and in the last minute headed the ball into his own goal. Marquis was more fortunate in his marksmanship, and did the hat trick.

Sheffield's Great Win.—Turf Moor people had something of a shock when Sheffield United beat Burnley by 4 goals to 1. The game opened evenly, but after half an hour the United took charge of the game, and Sampy and Johnson both beat Dawson before half-time. The home team defended for the greater part of the rest of the game, though after Johnson had scored again they did make a rally and scored a penalty. Kelly's spot kick was stopped by Blackwell, but Baslett rushed in and scored before the goalkeeper recovered. Just on time Johnson scored the fourth goal for Sheffield.

Grimsdell at His Best.—Arthur Grimsdell played wonderful football against Middlesbrough and almost won the match on his own. He led up to the first goal by his own right, and to the goal line and centring for Walden to score the goal in the first half. The Spurs pressed almost throughout the match, but the defence of Holmes and Davison at back was superb, and the only other goal came when Hamilton scored from a rebound after Lindsay had hit the bar.

CHELSEA JUST FAIL.

Beaten Away.—Chelsea and the Arsenal both lost while playing away from home. Both teams made a hard fight, and only succumbed by a goal to nil in each instance. Chelsea had the bigger proportion of the two in facing the champions at Liverpool. The home team had the better of the first half, but Chelsea came with a rare spirit of determination toward the end, and but for Boyd's misfortune missing the ball on the line would have scored just before the finish. A last minute rally by Liverpool enabled Lacey to just scramble the ball through from a melee in the goal mouth.

One Goal Beaten Arsenal.—Although without Scott and Kasher, two fine defensive players suspended by their club, Stoke checked the victorious march of the Arsenal. The Londoners were defending for the greater part of the match, and it was not until they tired under prolonged second half pressure that they let Britton through to score almost at the end of the game.

Forest Again Fails.—Newcastle United were below their best in the game with Nottingham Forest, but they repeated their 1-0 victory of a week earlier. The state of the ground was against good play, but considering the pressure they exerted the Tyneiders should have won by a bigger margin. The Forest put up a sound defence, but could not prevent Harris scoring in the first half. The veteran Sam Hardy was in form reminiscent of his best days.

STUBBORN BOLTON.

Cardiff's Hard Fight.—Cardiff had a stiff first-half fight with Bolton Wanderers, but they gained the upper hand in the second, and a clever goal by Reid gave them the victory. Vizard was continuously in the picture trying to get Bolton going, and Fynn performed wonders in the Wanderers' goal, but Cardiff were the better balanced side. West Bromwich secured a bloodless victory of three clear goals over Blackburn Rovers, but they were lucky to do so by such a margin, as the Rovers were the more clever footballers, and they were weakened by injuries to Dawson in the second half. Gregory, Davies and Morris were the scorers.

Buchan Again the Star.—Birmingham made a valiant attempt to avenge the heavy defeat in their former meeting with Sunderland, but finally admitted a further reverse by the odd goal of three. Charles Buchan once more proved himself the star artist of the "Weardale" attack, and it was he who scored the foot in the movements that led to the two goals Paterson scored.

A. I. Chapman, A. E. Scott, who made him made 77 in the 3rd wicket at New Zealand Test.

1922-23. 1922-23. Park on Saturday.

LEEDS' CHALLENGE.

Fine Victory Over Port Vale Puts United with Leaders.

By virtue of their victory over Port Vale Leeds United now come into rivalry with Notts County and Bury for the Second League leadership. Only goal average determines the order of precedence. Leeds were full value for their victory. Whipp scoring twice for them, while Butler hit back for the Vale just in half-time. Port Vale made a much more even contest in the second half, but Leeds retained the mastery throughout. Although outplayed for a large part of the game, Wolveshampton took a point away from South Shields. Facklerley opened the score early for the Molyneux men, and Gray equalised soon after the resumption.

Notts County's Relapse.—The divisional leaders, Notts County, have fallen away badly, having gained only one point in their last three games. They were beaten at home by Derby County by the odd goal in three, Lyons scoring twice for Derby and Dinsdale for Notts, from a penalty. Bury were also beaten at Stockport, but they were unfortunate. They had the better of the game, but were never able to wipe out the advantage Cousins' goal gave the home team early on.

Great Goalkeeping.—A wonderful display of goal-keeping earned a remarkable ovation for Ewart, the Bradford City goalkeeper, at the close of the match with Crystal Palace at Selhurst. He gave the finest display of custodianship seen in London this season, and was beaten twice in a penalty. Doney, one of the best, Whitworth was the successful marksmen on each occasion, and the improved form shown by this forward is a hopeful omen for the Cup ties.

FULHAM SHARE POINTS.

Saints Unlucky.—Southampton played clever football and deserved to win at Fulham, but the home side, who took full advantage of every opportunity, fought back in all respects. Doney, one of the best inside forwards in the country on his form in this game, scored for the Saints, and Osborne equalised just on the interval. Southampton displayed clever combination, and had plenty of pace, but Fulham's backs were good and Reynolds, although almost overworked, did wonderfully well in goal.

East Londoners' Three Points.—Tressaden scored for West Ham in the first minute of the game at Upton Park, but although his side pressed very continuously throughout the game they were unable to get through again. They monopolised the attack, but Best played brilliantly in the Coventry goal, though he should have been beaten had the home forwards been able to shoot at all accurately. West Ham's neighbours, Clapton Orient, had a goalless game at Rotherham, where both defences had a deal of luck in not being beaten.

Heavy Scoring.—Blackpool administered an unpleasant shock to the Wednesday, whom they defeated at Hillsborough by the odd goal of five. It was a tame first half, during which Banks scored for the home team. On resuming Blackpool were superior, but after Roseboom had equalised the Wednesday inaugurated a prolonged attack, and Smalley scored their second goal. Bedford replied with two goals in rapid succession for the Seaside, who merited their success.

THIRD LEAGUE GAMES.

Bristol City at the Top.—Defeating Gillingham by 2-1, Bristol City strengthened their position at the top of the Southern Section of the Third Division. All the scoring came in the opening half. The game was only two minutes' old when Sutherland found the net for Bristol, three minutes later Freeman placed Gillingham on terms, and two minutes from the interval Fairclough scored, which proved to be the winning goal. In a poor game at Norwich, Bristol Rovers were somewhat fortunate to obtain a point in a goalless draw with the home team.

Marching Orders.—Exeter City at home found little difficulty in defeating Reading, scoring four times without a reply. Kirk obtained the first two and Crookford the last two, the final goal being scored by a penalty. Just before the interval Linton scored for the home team to a draw at Watford. The game between Millwall and Luton produced no goals. Millwall thus playing their twelfth drawn match of the season.

Nelson's Downfall.—The leading Northern clubs, Nelson and Wigan, both suffered heavy defeats. Hartlepool United defeated Nelson 5-1, and Wigan were successful over Wigan, 3-1. Bradford put paid to the account of Grimsby Town, and they are now at the top of the table. Chesterfield, Rochdale, Wigan Borough and Nelson tie for second place with 25 points.

Scotland's Rugby Team.—The Scottish team to meet France at Edinburgh on January 20 will be: D. Drysdale (Heriots); E. H. Liddell (Edinburgh); A. L. Grant (Harrow), E. McLaren (Ross High School) and A. C. Wallace (Oxford U.); W. E. Bryce (Selkirk) and S. B. McQueen (Waterloo); D. S. Davie (Glasgow), C. H. E. Bannan (Stewarts), L. M. Stuart (Glasgow), J. M. Bannerman (Glasgow), J. B. Lawrie (Melrose), D. M. Kerr (Glasgow), A. Stevenson (Glasgow) and D. S. Kerr (Heriots).

ENGLAND'S EASY WIN.

Serious Accident to S. W. Harris —Team to Meet Wales.

England had only poor opposition in the final Rugby trial on Saturday at Twickenham, a weak Rest team being further weakened by the necessity of transferring A. M. Smallwood to the England team, consequent on a serious accident to S. W. Harris, the brilliant Blackheath winger.

The greatest disappointment was undoubtedly the result of the unsatisfactory trial was 39 points to 8 in England's favour. The Rest were not merely beaten—they were routed and outclassed. Parry, Sanders, Tucker and Cohen were the only forwards who showed international class; the half-backs were dwarfed by Kershaw and W. J. A. Davies, and the three-quarters did not shine. Mellish played very fairly at back, but was overwhelmed.

AMATEURS ON TRIAL.

South Too Good for the North at Bishop Auckland.

After an even first half the South outplayed the North in the amateur international trial at Bishop Auckland, winning by 7 goals to 3.

Minter gave the South the lead after eleven minutes' play and Creek equalised within five minutes. The North obtained the level score through Douthwaite and just on half-time Lucas brought the scores level.

Breams were closely matched in the first twenty minutes of the second half, when Doggart scored for the North. Hartley almost at once equalised, and then came three more minutes for the South by Kail, Minter and Hegran. Minter obtained a seventh goal for the South from a corner.

Middlesex Badminton.—In the Middlesex Badminton championships on Saturday A. Jones and H. Usher won the men's doubles, Mrs. Bigg and Mrs. Treggett the women's doubles, and P. Berlin and Miss Peterson the mixed doubles.

BAT BEATS THE BALL

England's Fine Response in New Zealand Test.

CHAPMAN IN FORM.

Although without their captain, England's team in New Zealand got out of an awkward position in the second Test match at Christchurch on Saturday. New Zealand took their total to 375 before the last man was disposed of, but after a moderate start the England batsmen found the bowling just to their liking, and at the close they were only 46 behind with three wickets to fall.

The rate of scoring was slow, says Reuter, until, with Wilkinson and Chapman together, 100 runs were put on for the third wicket in seventy-one minutes.

Chapman hit freely all round the wicket for his 77, which included nine 4's. Lowry also batted brightly in his innings of 61, among his hits being eleven 4's. Score—

NEW ZEALAND.—First Innings: Collins 102, Blunt 33, Swenden 0, Lambert 23, Shepherd 68, Garrard 9, McGirr (not out) 46, Dacre 45, Berman 2, Allcott 16, Condill 1, total 375. Second Innings: 1 for 69, Freeman 2 for 80, Brand 3 for 84, Calhoun 4 for 78.

ENGLAND.—First Innings: G. Wilson 6, C. H. Titchmarsh 15, A. C. Wilkinson 59, A. F. F. Chapman 77, Hon. F. S. G. Calhoun 14, T. C. Lowry 61, J. S. McLean 7, Colonel J. C. Hartley (not out) 43, Hon. D. F. Brand (not out) 21, extra 28, total 7 wickets 329.
